Dayanand college of Pharmacy, latur (DCOPL) has inspired me to be always moving one step forward and to try new things. The most unique thing about our College is that it provides necessary opportunities for students to succeed beyond their expectations. Overall, in everything I do, DCOPL has challenged me to look at myself and what I'm capable of doing differently. The limits I held myself to are no more. The community I have found myself a part of at DCOPL has inspired me to make the communities I am a part of after college the most inclusive and successful they can be. The interpersonal skills I have developed as an dayanand student and community member has prepared me to have the confidence to approach new situations. I've been prepared to think critically, and articulate simply. Thank you DCOPL
